GLOVER PARK HARDWARE ANNOUNCES NEW LOCATION
Locally owned Ace Hardware is scheduled to re-open Spring 2015

WASHINGTON, D.C. (March 3, 2015) — It's official- Glover Park Hardware has a new home in the neighborhood! After a two month search, local hardware store Glover Park Hardware is pleased to announce they've found a new storefront at 2233 Wisconsin Ave NW.

The new Glover Park Hardware boasts 7,500 sq. ft. of retail space and is located just a few doors away from their previous location at 2251 Wisconsin Ave NW. Customers can expect to see movement in the store as soon as March, with an anticipated re-opening date of April 2015. Store owners Gina Schaefer and Marc Friedman are thrilled to stay in the neighborhood where it first opened in 2005. "We love our Glover Park Community and we were committed to reopening in this neighborhood," says Schaefer.

Updates regarding the new store location will be posted on their website at www.acehardwaredc.com, and will also be sent out periodically via email and social media. To receive information on the grand re-opening celebration and stay informed on the move, please contact us via email at gloverfans@acehardwaredc.com.
